9.2.1. Press stand and technical requirements

- Location of the Press stand: close to the playing field (ideally opposite the team benches, nearby the commentary positions, detailed p. 20-21), with a clear view on the playing field, and an easy access to the mixed zone.
- Working desks (100cm length x 60cm width per working position, 75 cm height) and seating to be planned for a maximum of 10 media representatives, with electric points for portable computers.

In general, the press seats should give sufficient working space and be easily accessible even during the game when other seats are occupied. Tables should be large enough to accommodate notebook computers, mobile phones and television or statistics monitors (where applicable).

Each press seat should be marked with the name of the organisation and journalist to whom it is assigned. It should furthermore be equipped with a power point indicating the voltage.

Its size and capacity should obviously be in correlation with the total number of accredited media.

9.2.2. Media centre

In order for the journalists to write their reports/articles straight after the game and in a comfortable environment, they should benefit from a media centre, close to or within the sport complex. This area should include a wireless connection. Its size and capacity should be in correlation with the total number of accredited media.

9.2.3. Press conference Room

The press conference room should be large enough to accommodate at least 30 persons, including television camera crews and photographers. Usually, the capacity of the room equals 30% of the total number of accredited journalists.

It should be close to the other media areas and easily accessible from the press stand and the teams changing rooms.

The press conference room should be equipped with a stage with sufficient space to include a table and chairs for a minimum of six persons. Journalists should get a seating area in front of the stage.

It should be separated from the media centre and other areas of the venue which could create disturbing noises.

It should be equipped with an adequate sound system consisting in fixed microphones on the main table and wireless microphone(s) for the audience. Loudspeakers would also have to be positioned. Besides, an audio plug-in for television and radio stations should be provided. The entire room should be perfectly well enlightened (spotlights), in order for the photographers and the cameramen to get clear images.

Along the stage's length (back of the stage), an advertising backdrop should be positioned first bullet point).

Soft drinks should be made available on the main table.

Coaches and players shall receive the game statistics. Nametags for the participating coaches and players, and the LEN Champions League logo shall be placed on the table.

9.2.4. The mixed zone

In order for journalists to interview players/coaches they are interested in and to leverage the advertising opportunity (and therefore the sources of incomes for ORG) given to Official Partners, an advertising backdrop should be settled all length of the mixed zone, and positioned opposite the media reserved area within the mixed zone. Below the theoretical structuring of such area:

Whatever the sporting complex in which the game is being held, the above mixed zone principles should be considered: obligation for players/coaches to pass through the mixed zone, ways of circulation, priority

9.2.5. Security

ORG's press officer(s) must provide an appropriate security system, in order to ensure that only accredited media can get access to all media areas.

9.2.6. Broadcast equipment and related workforces

Broadcast equipment and related workforces shall not be placed in a way that can endanger players and officials. All cameras shall be placed a minimum of 3 metres from the pool and, where advertising signage is in position, they must be located behind such signage.

9.2.7. Photographers zone

A dedicated zone for photographers should be planned around the playing field. It should be able to host approximately 10 photographers.

A tight security system should be planned by the ORG's press officer(s), in order to ensure that only accredited photographers can access such zone. In order to simplify the security system and to clearly identify the professional photographers, ORG shall provide photographers with bibs or any other distinctive signage produced by LEN. Such material will have to be continuously worn by the approved photographers.

9.3. ORG's press office

In order to ensure that a top level service is provided to all media covering the event, it is essential that there is a full co-operation, communication and co-ordination between LEN (and/or any of its representatives) and the ORG's press office.

It is therefore required that ORG appoints a media manager responsible of all media issues.

ORG's media manager should be a full time professional, hired by ORG. He/She should be familiar to work in media environments on major sporting events. It is absolutely essential that the ORG's media manager is capable to communicate in English and in the host-country language.

10. TELEVISION

10.1.4. Within the working week following each game, the appointed host-broadcaster shall communicate to LEN information on all broadcasts made (lives, delayed, short programmes, news, ...), the related broadcasting times (number of hours, minutes), audiences, and market shares.

10.2. TV Commentary position(s)

In case the game is being covered by media (TV, Radio) and their journalists wish to comment on site, ORG should make all necessary efforts to provide such media with the best possible working conditions, ideally benefiting from a strong collaboration of the national/local host-broadcaster.

Commentary positions should:

- Be located in an appropriate seating area as close as possible to the area of competition, opposite the team benches,
- Be located in places that provide complete and unhindered views of the competitions,
- Be separated from the general public and other media (press journalists for instance, that also benefit from a private working area with a clear view on the competition field, but with less logistic and technical supply coming from ORG),

- Include:
 - ✓ 4 electricity outlet points, including cabling thereto,
 - ✓ connection to an ISDN data transmission line, including cabling thereto,
 - ✓ a data information system (statistics: score, faults, etc), including cabling thereto,
 - ✓ a TV monitor,

In return of such supply, media benefiting from a commentary position shall pay a facility fee to ORG. Obviously, such fee might have to be discussed and eventually shared with the host-broadcaster, depending on its degree of involvement towards ORG.

11. INTERNET AND STATISTICS

11.1. Website

Apart from each game's dedicated area on ORG' website, www.len.eu is the Official internet website of the competition. In order for LEN to assure a qualitative follow-up of the games, ORG shall provide LEN with the best and most up-to-date information possible.

11.2. Scoring and statistics

A live scoring statistical data system has been implemented by LEN. ORG must provide:

- 1) 1 or 2 persons in charge to insert all data during the game and in contact with the LEN data partner (microplus);
- 2) an appropriate cabled internet connection at the jury table;
- 3) a computer to install the relevant software provided by LEN
- 4) a printer, so that to also deliver the sheet of the game to the LEN officials, and teams, within 10 minutes following the conclusion of the game.
